CHECK SETTING 105.15 - EGR TEMP SLIGHTLY HIGH CODE

CORRECTION:

2/10/20 - Checked over unit - found no active codes but four stored ECU codes - 105.00, 105.15, 1569.31 & 2659.02. Checked code 2659.02 & found the EGR valve cycling from 0% to 90% in 30 seconds & EGR temp at 290 degrees. Checked for air leaks & exhaust leaks - test ran unit & loaded engine - have 35 psi boost pressure. Checked over turbocharger & found the VGT actuator linkage worn & fell off. Reinstalled the linkage & retested - boost back to normal, EGR temperature & EGR cycling all back to normal. Talked to customer & ordered new turbocharger.

2/12/20 - Returned to the machine, installed new turbocharger & retested machine operation - checks good at this time.

CHECK MACHINE STUCK ON SIDE OF ROAD - WONT MOVE FORWARD OR REVERSE

CORRECTION:

1/15/20 - Checked over unit - found the transmission input shaft speed sensor bad. Had part delivered to the machine & when removed sensor found it had been damaged from the inside of the transmission. Installed the new sensor & had transmission codes. Calibrated the transmission & found that clutch 2 not passing. Ordered new solenoid valve.

1/16/20 - Returned to the machine & installed the new solenoid valve & tried to calibrate the transmission again. Still would not calibrate - found all the gears that use clutch 2 are slipping. Removed the transmission filter & found it to be full of steel particles. Called Greg & let him know machine will need new transmission.

1/20/20 - Customer authorized transmission replacement & had machine trucked to shop. Ordered new transmission.

1/22/20 - Brought the machine into the shop & started the disassembly to access the transmission.

1/23/20 - Continued disassembly of machine to access the transmission.

1/24/20 - Removed the old transmission, installed the new transmission & started to reassemble the machine.

1/27/20 - Finished reassembling the machine - topped off the fluids & road tested the machine. Checked the machine operation - checks good at this time.

CHECK OVERHEATING - FAN VERY SLOW

CORRECTION:

6/21/19 - Checked over unit - fan is slow - no codes. Removed fan speed solenoid & had no change. Checked in the monitor & found the fan pressures low at 300 psi. Checked pump flow & it checked good enough to run the fan. Removed the fan valve & air tested - found the air going to the tank too easily. Removed two check valves - checked ok. Removed the fan direction valve & found some pieces of brass in the housing. Flushed out the housing reinstalled the valve. Had fan speed on high - also found the intake air temp sensor unplugged. Hooked it back up & the fan went to low speed. Tested the operation & tested for reversing - checks good at this time.

6/24/19 - Returned to machine - fan quit working again. Checked over unit again & found more brass stuck in the fan direction valve. Removed the brass & got the machine running. Recommend machine be brought to shop for repair.

Once the machine arrived - got the machine in the shop & drained the hydraulic oil & checked for brass in the tank & found some small particles. Removed the hydraulic filter & drained it - found a lot of small shavings. Replaced the main hydraulic pump & the fan pump & installed a new relief valve. Also checked the fuel sender & found it was bad - installed a new fuel sender. Filled the unit with new oil & a new filter. Went to start the machine & the positive battery terminal started smoking due to badly corroded battery terminal connections. Had to make new positive battery cable end & install a new battery. Started & ran the machine & tested the operation. Has good fan pressure & speed & the main hydraulic pump is in spec. Took the machine for a road test & the fan stayed working. Let the machine run at different engine speeds & fan loads & all stayed working normally. Took machine for a second road test - approx 20 miles - checks good at this time. Operator will need to need to run machine & monitor for a while in case more residual debris still in system.

7/16/19 - Returned to machine & found more debris in the fan direction valve. Removed the residual the debris & cleaned out valve again. Also installed a new hydraulic oil filter. Had the operator run the machine & working good at this time.
